"For the Son of Man did not come to be served but to serve and to give his life as ransom for many."

POINTS TO PONDER

From our Holy Father, Benedict XVI

Message of His Holiness

Benedict XVI for the 83rd World Mission Sunday 2009

"The nations will walk in its light" (Rev 21:24)

On this Sunday, dedicated to the missions, I turn first of all to you, my brothers in the priestly ministry, and then to you, my brothers and sisters, the whole People of God, to encourage in each one of you a deeper awareness of Christ's missionary mandate to "make disciples of all peoples" (Mt 28:19), in the footsteps of Saint Paul, the Apostle of the nations.

"The nations will walk in its light" (Rev 21:24). The goal of the Church's mission is to illumine all peoples with the light of the Gospel as they journey through history towards God, so that in Him they may reach their full potential and fulfillment. We should have a longing and a passion to illumine all peoples with the light of Christ that shines on the face of the Church, so that all may be gathered into the one human family, under God's loving fatherhood.

It is in this perspective that the disciples of Christ spread throughout the world work, struggle and groan under the burden of suffering, offering their very lives. I strongly reiterate what was so frequently affirmed by my venerable Predecessors: the Church works not to extend her power or assert her dominion, but to lead all people to Christ, the salvation of the world. We seek only to place ourselves at the service of all humanity, especially the suffering and the excluded, because we believe that "the effort to proclaim the Gospel to the people of today... a service rendered to the Christian community and also to the whole of humanity" (Evangelii Nuntiandi, 1)

1. All Peoples are called to salvation
 In truth, the whole of humanity has the radical vocation to return to its source, to return to God, since in Him alone can it find fulfillment through the restoration of all things in Christ. Dispersion, multiplicity, conflict and enmity will be healed and reconciled through the blood of the Cross and led back to unity.

This new beginning can already be seen in the resurrection and exaltation of Christ, who draws all things to himself, renewing them and enabling them to share in the eternal joy of God. The future of the new creation is already shining in our world and, despite contradictions and suffering, it enkindles hope for new life. The Church's mission is to spread hope "contagiously" among all peoples. This is why Christ calls, justifies, sanctifies and sends his disciples to proclaim the Kingdom of God, so that all nations may become the People of God. It is only in this mission that the true journey of humanity is understood and attested.

2. The Pilgrim Church

The universal Church, which knows neither borders nor frontiers, is aware of her responsibility to proclaim the Gospel to entire peoples (cf. Evangelii Nuntiandi, 53). It is the duty of the Church, called to be a seed of hope, to continue Christ's service in the world. The measure of her mission and service is not material or even spiritual needs limited to the sphere of temporal existence, but instead, it is transcendent salvation, fulfilled in the Kingdom of God (cf. Evangelii Nuntiandi, 27). The Church wishes to transform the world through the proclamation of the Gospel of love, "that can always illumine a world grown dim and give us the courage needed to keep living and working ... and in this way ... cause the light of God to enter into the world" (Deus Caritas Est, 39).

3. Missio ad gentes

The mission of the Church, therefore, is to call all peoples to the salvation accomplished by God through his incarnate Son. It is therefore necessary to renew our commitment to proclaiming the Gospel which is a leaven of freedom and progress, brotherhood, unity and peace (cf. Ad Gentes, 8). I would "confirm once more that the task of evangelizing all people constitutes the essential mission of the Church" (Evangelii Nuntiandi, 14). At stake is the eternal salvation of persons, the goal and the fulfillment of human history and the universe. Animated and inspired by the Apostle of the nations, we must realize that God has many people in all the cities visited by the apostles of today (i.e., Acts 18:10). In fact "the promise is to you and to your children and to all that are far off, every one whom the Lord our God calls to him" (Acts 2:39). At present, it is true, we are not able to see that all things are in subjection to him" (Heb 2:8).

4. Called to evangelize even through martyrdom

On this day dedicated to the missions, I recall in prayer those who have consecrated their lives exclusively to the work of evangelization. I mention especially the local Churches and the men and women missionaries who bear witness to and spread the Kingdom of God in situations of persecution, subjected to forms of oppression ranging from social discrimination to prison, torture and death. Even today, not a few are put to death for the sake of his "Name." Participation in the mission of Christ is also granted to those who preach the Gospel, for whom is reserved the same destiny as their Master. "Remember the words I said to you: A servant is not greater than his master. If they persecuted me, they will persecute you too" (Jn 15:20). The Church walks the same path and suffers the same destiny as Christ, since she acts not on the basis of any human logic or relying on her own strength, but instead she follows the way of the Cross, becoming, in filial obedience to the Father, a witness and a travelling companion for all humanity.

5. Conclusion

Missionary zeal has always been a sign of the vitality of our Churches (cf. Redemptoris Missio, 2). Nevertheless it must be reaffirmed that evangelization is primarily the work of the Spirit. I therefore ask all Catholics to pray to the Holy Spirit for an increase in the Church's passion for her mission to spread the Kingdom of God and to support missionaries and Christian communities involved in mission, in the front line, often in situations of hostility and persecution. At the same time I ask everyone, as a credible sign of communion among the Churches, to offer financial assistance, especially in these times of crisis affecting all humanity. May we be guided by the Blessed Virgin Mary, Star of New Evangelization, who brought Christ into the world to be the light of the nations and to carry salvation "to the ends of the earth" (Acts 13:47). To all I impart my Blessing.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Parent Participation

On Wednesday evenings, after signing-in your children for their R.E. classes, please consider staying for the hour so that you don't have to go back out in the cold and/or dark. You may sit in the hallway and visit with other parents and/or talk to your Coordinator of Religious Education. You could also use the time to catch up on some paperwork or join other parents in an informal study group for Theology of the Body. This is an excellent opportunity to learn how to talk with youth about the glory of God's creation. On Sunday, parents are invited to come down to the church hall for the Sunday Coffee Social.

Thanksgiving/Christmas Food Drive

The Knights of Columbus are sponsoring a Holiday Food Drive. We are joining forces with several other councils in the area "to provide as many families as possible with the food they need for Thanksgiving and Christmas." Now more than in years past, the number of families has grown to a staggering number. It seems we all know someone who has been hit by the loss of a job or a sudden illness. The list of families that will receive our assistance come from local organizations including:

St. Vincent dePaul Society Veterans Assistance Comm.
Home of the Sparrow Family Services and
Pioneer Center Community Mental Health
Christ the King Families in Need

It takes $50 to fill each boxed meal. If you would like to donate, you can donate any amount you would like. Detailed flyers and donation envelopes are available on the magazine rack in the main entry of church. If you have any questions you can email stevesaunders@comcast.net. WORD OF LIFE

"The subtle lies of today's culture of death are a plague of spiritual leprosy, reducing the value of human persons to some arbitrary standard that changes like fashions. ... To the world around us, what matters is what we possess, but to the Lord, we matter because we are his beloved children, created in his image, for whom he died, and with whom he wants to live forever in heaven."

— Rev. John Bartunek, LC, STL, "Why You Matter: A Reflection on Human Dignity," pamphlet from 2009 Respect Life Program.
